

Adventures in snow

By MICHIGAN ST13

Once upon a time, there was a forest elf named Celestia. She was a healer who enjoyed helping others, but she couldn't form strong relationships with any of them. Over the years, she became lonely. Celestia was very attractive, even though she was 2000 years old. She had long, wavy red hair and teal eyes. Celestia was tall and thin with pointy ears and a swan-like neck.

Winter had arrived, and everything began to go wrong. All the trees were covered in snow, and all the lakes were frozen. It had been uncomfortably snowy for the past two months. The Rock Mountain was freezing, and all the paths were blocked by the snow. Numerous avalanches started on the rocky mountain.

A big blue dragon named Thunder lived at the top of the rocky mountain. He was mentally unstable, so he lost his ability to control the weather, and he accidentally made the mountain icier. He was really sad and needed someone to help him overcome his sadness. Celestia wanted to help Thunder, but it was challenging to climb the snowy mountain. She needed to overcome lots of obstacles to reach the top of the rocky mountain and meet Thunder so she could assist him.

As she climbed the deadly mountain to reach the dragon, she saw a shadowy figure watching her from above, but she couldn't make out what it was. Then, a sudden avalanche started, and she was forced to search for quick shelter. Fortunately, she found a nearby cave and stayed the night there.

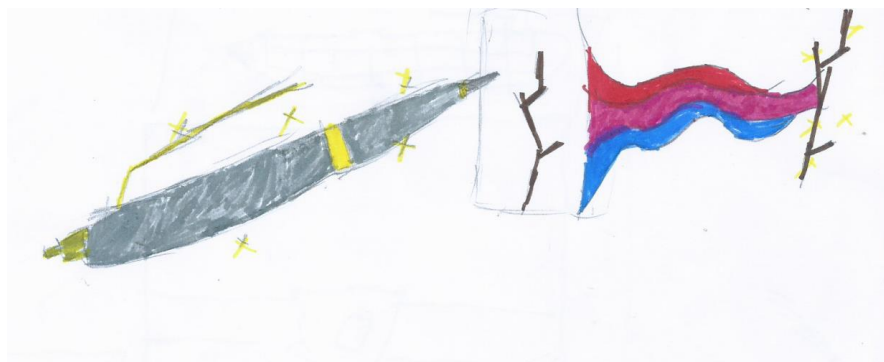

However, the next day, when she woke up, there was no sunlight to greet her. Suddenly, she had a terrifying realization. The entrance to the cave had collapsed in on itself overnight, and she was trapped. Celestia screamed for help, but none came. After hours of shouting, suddenly the rocks disappeared, and she got out of the cave.

However, as she ran around in happiness, she fell into a nearby river. She screamed because she couldn't swim, and the water was too cold. A well-built boy heard her scream and came to save her. He jumped into the water as if he didn't care about freezing or drowning; he just wanted to save her. And so he did.

Then the helper found a magic chest, pulled out the reality pen from the chest, and put it in his pocket. As Celestia expressed her gratitude, the boy explained that the reality pen had the power to reshape elements of the environment. He handed her the pen, urging her to use it wisely on her journey.

With the newfound tool, Celestia continued her ascent up the mountain, facing fewer obstacles as she altered the reality around her. The boy, who revealed his name as Orion, decided to accompany her on the quest to help Thunder. Together, they faced challenges and overcame magical barriers using the reality pen. The bond between Celestia and Orion grew stronger as they approached the peak, ready to confront the troubled dragon.

In the end, Celestia and the boy used the magic pen to draw a special doorway to a magical place called Dragon's Haven. It was a wonderful land with floating islands and beautiful colors. Through the door, they brought Thunder, the dragon, to a castle in Dragon's Haven. As a thank you, the magical beings there gave Celestia and Orion special crystals that made the magic pen even more powerful.

Back at Celestia's house, they took care of Thunder, and over time, he became better and stronger. The three of them lived happily together in their special home, and they remained the best of friends forever.

Written and illustrated by:

GEORGE	TSANTOS
ANTHIA	SARANTAVGA
NICK	KARAMPELAS
ISMINI	PAPATHEODOROU
NICOLAS	MOSCHOPOULOS
MARIANNA	GRAMMATIKOU
IRENE	SAVVANI
NICK	NICHAS
EVA	DAGLI
EMILY	NIKITOVITS
FIVOS	APOSTOLOU
SOPHIE	ZGOURI
KRISTIAN	QOSE
MIKE	NIKITAS
JASON	PEROULIAS
KONSTANTINA	GIOULI
MAXIMI	PAPADIOTI